

WHAT IS “OPERATIONS”?

- This is a more traditional model of running hardware and servers.
- In this model, you have a person or a team who are in charge of running servers on which to host software. Often they will be the ones handling deploys as well.

WHAT IS “OPERATIONS”?

- This generally scales poorly as you must employ an increasing number of operations people to manage an increasing load, instead of automating it with software

